

Television stations shouldn't be pushing a candidate on us. They should be presenting the public with issues in a balanced manner.

When large companies control the airwaves, we often get less of what we need for our democracy, because we get only one perspective.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them.